

Linear Simplicity

Bisley storage units have helped create a stunning working environment at a law firm's new London headquarters.

Married with furniture from B&B Italia - more often found in boutique hotels and luxurious contemporary homes - Bisley's LateralFile™ delivers a harmonious yet capacious storage solution.

"LateralFile™ was chosen to provide workstation storage because of its linear simplicity it's beautifully clean and understated" explains Bisley Account Director, Sarah Trown.

The 150 units, which are finished in pure white, co-ordinate perfectly with B&B Italia tables and workstation systems. While in some cases they are topped with bespoke laminate enclosures for printer stations, most of the filing units are finished with a simple matching white top.

In cellular offices, double-height units were used as credenzas, the environment completed with flush-fronted Bisley Integrated Pedestals, also in white.

The US law firm's sleek London headquarters, designed by HLW International, occupy two floors of 88 Wood Street, a landmark building by architect Richard Rogers.
